

OBJECTIVES

- Treatment options for all stages of COPD (mild, moderate, severe, very severe)
- Describe pulmonary function values indicating a patient's severity of COPD
- Practitioners will be able to differentiate between asthma and COPD
- Participants will understand of a variety of airway clearance techniques.
- How vibratory therapy can improve the quality of a patient's life
- The participants will be able to discuss the importance of pulmonary rehabilitation as a treatment for chronic lung disease
- Participants will understand how pulmonary rehabilitation can improve quality of life

ISRC

ISRC Chapters 4&5 in conjunction with Riverview Hospital present

THE BALANCED MANAGEMENT OF COPD PATIENTS

FACULTY

- ❖ Debbie Koehl, B.S., R.R.T.
 - Manager Pulmonary rehabilitation Program
Clarian Health Partners

- ❖ Robert A. Strawbrigde, M.D.
 - Associate Clinical Professor of Medicine
Indiana University School of Medicine
 - Respiratory and Critical Care Consultants
 - Respiratory Care Medical Director for Riverview and Tipton hospitals

- ❖ Laura Wood
 - Clinical Specialist Hill-ROM

AGENDA

- 1:00 – 2:00 - Updated Gold guidelines for COPD
- Dr. Strawbrigde
- 2:00 – 3:00 – Pulmonary Rehabilitation for chronic lung disease
- Debbie Koehl
- 3:00 – 3:30 – ISRC Chapter 4 & 5 Meeting
- 3:30-3:45 – Break
- 3:45- 4:45 – Improving quality of life for COPD patients
- Laura Wood

An application has been submitted to the AARC requesting 3 CRCEs

Registration

The Balanced Management of Patients with COPD

*Chapter 4 & 5 in conjunction with Riverview Hospital
October 6, 2004*

Name: _____

AARC#: _____

Phone #: _____

E-mail: _____

Registration is free for all AARC members and those that join the AARC the day of the conference. All non-AARC members will be charged $30.

Cancellation Policy: If you cancel 7 working days prior to the conference, your registration fee will be refunded.

Registration is limited: please mail registration and fee to

Bea Ayers

1408 N Lorraine Ave
Muncie, IN 47304

Or you may register by e-mail if you are an AARC member bayers@chsmail.org